

LANJIA WEI

London, UK • +44 7423 250077 • lanjia.wei@kcl.ac.uk

EDUCATION

King's College London London, UK
BSc Psychology (Graduation 2027) 2024 - Present

- Average mark top 10% of students in year one.
- Key Modules: Biological psychology, social psychology, research method, developmental psychology, differential psychology
- Being a student representative of the year one BSc psychology cohort, communicating student feedbacks to teaching staff

University College London London, UK
Undergraduate Preparatory Certificate 2023 - 2024

- Overall Score: 83% (Pass with distinction, Academic English 82%, Mathematics 93%, research project 79%)

EXPERIENCE

King's College London London, UK
Student Representative September 2024 - Present

- Presented feedback from 250 students at meetings each term to the KCL teaching team, resulting in the implementation of two new teaching initiatives: more in-person lectures and clearer demonstrations of extracurricular opportunities on website
- Organised Christmas shoebox donation on campus for underprivileged children, collecting 26 shoeboxes

King's College London London, UK
Student-staff partnership research intern March 2025- Present

- Conducted individual research on enhancing Chinese international students' class engagement, inspired by personal experience being a Chinese international student
- Designed a screening questionnaire for a focus group and conducted interviews, which strengthened my qualitative research skills

London Intercultural Centre London, UK
Internship as channel marketing lead May 2025- July 2025

- Created an engaging guidebook on bridging generational divide in workplace
- Conducted street interviews, onboarded writers and course creators to promote the organisation, as well as getting in touch with embassies and culture organisations to collaborate on events. developed strong interpersonal skills and leadership skills
- Positive feedback from my manager as "creative and focused"

PROJECTS

King's College London London, UK
Research report evaluating the Consideration for Future Consequences Scale March 2025 – April 2025

- Analysed real-world data collected in class using SPSS, boosted my statistical skills
- Obtained a final mark of 74%

University College London London, UK
2000-word Research project evaluating MBTI personality test January 2022 - December 2022

- Synthesized many research findings on the drawbacks and benefits of the famous Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, and found that, in contrary to public criticism, the MBTI demonstrates good reliability and validity. Hands-on experience in writing literature review.
- Created poster and had viva of the project, obtained a final score of 79% (average 65%)

Individual thesis project Tianjin, China
3000-word project titled "The reinforcement of nationalism in the age of Covid-19 in China" August-October 2022

- Completed during a sociology seminar series led by a professor in Williams College
- Applied terror management theory and social identity theory to analyse the rise of nationalism during COVID-19 in China.

Public website Tianjin, China
Started a public website "Psychologiser" January 2019 - December 2022

- Published 142 original articles covering psychology, philosophy and short commentaries on international events.
- Mobilized classmates and friends to post articles.

SKILLS

- Programming Languages: Python
- Other skills: writing reports, literature review, data analysis using SPSS, statistics, visual design, leadership skills.